

CITY OF HUNTSVILLE, ALABAMA

PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS, System Studies and Simulation, Inc. or S³, was incorporated and headquartered 1991 in Huntsville, Alabama; and

WHEREAS, S³ provides technical products and services to the U.S. Military Services, other U.S. security agencies, Partner Nation militaries, and commercial customers. These services include engineering, acquisition support, training, simulation, C4ISR, logistics, and security assistance; and

WHEREAS, there are three subsidiaries of S³ and each are very diverse and wholly owned. Kachemak Bay Flying Services (KBFS) provides FAA certified products and services to General (Civil) Aviation and supports Contractor-Owned, Contractor-Operated Government contracts with the company's own fleet of airplanes and helicopters. These services included aviation maintenance and avionics repair, pilot training, external load operations, and on-demand transport.

WHEREAS, S³ International, Inc. (S³I), is the company's mechanism for delivering aviation training, logistics, maintenance, simulation, and C4ISR operations to Partner Nations; and

WHEREAS, the third subsidiary, Global Logistics Support Services (GLSS), was established to focus considerable experience and capabilities in logistics on USG maintenance, supply, and transportation requirements for air and ground systems. GLSS specializes in managing large work forces under the Service Contract Act (SCA) or employees covered by Collective Bargaining Agreements (CBA); and

WHEREAS, S³ has grown tremendously over the past twenty-five years and has won numerous industry awards for excellence. The company credits its success to its outstanding employees, superior technical capabilities and experience, continuously improving processes, and uncompromising commitment to its customers.

WHEREAS, S³ was recently selected as the recipient of the 2025 Alabama Governor's International Trade and Excellence Award and was honored during a ceremony that took place in Montgomery on May 7, 2025.

NOW THEREFORE I, Tommy Battle, mayor of the City of Huntsville, Alabama, hereby proclaim May 8, 2025 to be named as and congratulate Jan Smith, the executive staff and team members of S³ for their commitment to provide consistent and quality service to our nation's defense industries.

System Studies and Simulation, Inc. (S³), Day

DATED this 8th day of May 2025.

Tommy Battle
Mayor

We realize that each of our customers has a choice in this highly competitive technical services market. We pride ourselves on winning your confidence and repeat contracts through consistent, industry pacing performance.